Mr. Hill issued the following statement at 1 p. m.

"The snowslide struck the train, throwing a sleeping car on its side and carrying the diner and chair car over the bank.

"The number of killed and injured is not definitely known but it is reported that the chair car contained eight or ten people and the sleeper six people, with employees, and probably some passengers in the diner.

"The accident occurred about 7 p. m. The mountain along which the train was standing is not very high at this point."

POLICE THINK SOCIAL HIGHWAYMAN IN TOILS

From information conveyed by the Santa Fe detective agency and identification of a photograph by O. A. Matson, the police here have reason to believe that a man giving the name of George Lee Thomas, arrested in Portland, Ore., is "W. E. Gaines," who is alleged to have fled from here last spring after passing worthless checks.

"Gaines" dressed well, appeared to be an educated man, and was received in local society. The men and from who accepted Gaines' worthless checks, say the police, are E. L. Washburn & Co., druggists; Arthur Everett, O. A. Matson and the Citizens bank. The amount of the alleged worthless checks was taken by Mr. Everett and was $310, it was said. This check was said to have been given in payment for a watch.

SANTA FE LINES OPENED; TRAINS ARRIVE IN LOTS

Eighteen Hundred People Handled This Morning at Local Station, Without an Accident or Anyone Left Behind.

Eleven o'clock last night saw the flood broken rails of the Santa Fe coast line blithely together again and trains running. The delayed trains from the west began arriving in Albuquerque at 3:20 this morning, when the first of a long string of "wooden lions" reached the city.

There were seven sections of this train, made up of all the trains that were marooned in Arizona before the road began holding back trains because of the washouts. They were sectional trains, made up of double-headed equipment, arrived this afternoon, but there were no passengers on these, of course, and they did not figure much in the general congestion.

With three sections of the California limited, one of them a Raymond White comb tourist train, and one section of No. 19 in the yards, another waiting just below the stadium for a track in the yards to be cleared, and odd lots of equipment from various trains still to be handled, the station was a busy place about 11 o'clock.

No. 7 had gone on west at that hour, with its load of mail and express, and No. 315 had departed for the south, but there was plenty to do. Four sections of No. 19 had been sent on their way then, and preparations were being made to care for the passengers on the two sections still to enter the yards.

Mail arrived from the west in such a quantity that for an hour or so it remained piled up at the transfer room, there being no opportunity to get it to the postoffice for that time. Express and postal officials worked overtime getting delayed matter from the west straightened out and on its way east, south, north, and to the addresses in this city.

This afternoon, late, a consolidation of trains Nos. 2 and 8 will arrive, followed by the deadhead equipment trains, and No. 4 the eastbound California limited, will arrive on time. This clears up the situation in the west, at least so far as reasonably close observation of schedule is concerned.

Official German Motion Pictures of Events on Fields in Europe Exhibited Funds for Crippled Soldiers.

"The German Side of the War" pictures, which opened a two-day engagement at the Crystal theater this afternoon, are the first war film to show an actual battle, and in which one scene on the screen actually takes place on the field of hostilities.

Heretofore the only war pictures allowed to reach this country have merely shown soldiers manuevering, cannon firing, trench digging and other interesting details of the soldier's life, but no actual battle.

"The German Side of the War" is different from any other pictures of the present war because they were made by direct permission of the German government and by staff photographers of foebishly daring and unimpaired experience, and to see these pictures is to immediately recognize their great superiority.

The Chicago Tribune brought to the United States the only moving pictures made in Belgium in the early stages of the war, and it is to the further credit of this newspaper that the American people can see the realities of this terrible conflict.

You will see at the Crystal tonight or tomorrow afternoon or night what you have never seen before—"War as it really is!"

It is readily granted by the allies that the German army is the greatest fighting machine the world has ever known, and it requires no imaginative person, or readily accord as much after witnessing what is recorded by the reliable camera.

Twenty-five and 50 cents is the average admission charged in the best theaters in the largest cities for "The German Side of the War" pictures, but in Albuquerque the admission will be 25 cents for children and 35 cents for adults. So much has been promised in the way of war pictures that the public is a bit doubtful, but it is a settled fact that those who go to the Crystal on "suspicious" are certain to urge friends and acquaintances to do, for the opportunity is exceptional in this particular instance.

The "high shows" are scheduled at 7:30 and 9 o'clock. The two matinees tomorrow begin at 2:15 and 3:45.

THREE YOUTHS FACE TERMS IN REFORM SCHOOL

Half of Members of Band Which Robbed Hotel Held for Judge Reynolds; Half for Grand Jury.

Three of the six youths arrested last night, charged with robbing the Santa Fe hotel on South Third street, were held for the grand jury this morning by Justice of the Peace George H. Craig in the 25th precinct court. Two others were referred to the district court in proceedings looking to their commitment to the state reform school. The sixth youth has a year's sentence in the state school hanging over him.

The six, who range in age from 16 to 18 years, are Aureliano Carrasco, Remulo Rivera and Juan Rios, the three held for the grand jury; Rafael Angel and Higinio Chavez, candidates for the reform school, and Juan Garcia, over whom is suspended a year's sentence.

The boys, according to the police, admit that they entered the hotel this week while no one was in and carried off two suitcases full of blankets, bed-spreads, shoes and other articles.

Mrs. Tomasa Rivera de Rios, mother of one of the youths, has been ordered to appear before Judge Craig Monday to answer to a charge of abetting in the concealment of stolen goods.

PYTHIAN CHARGES AN ALLEGED MEMBER OF ORDER WITH 68C FRAUD

Justice George H. Craig last night issued a warrant for C. A. Ridley, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. James J. Day, secretary-treasurer of the Pythian relief board, is the complainant. The amount obtained by Ridley is 68 cents, the smallest amount upon which this charge has ever been made, in the knowledge of the court.

Day said he had been "set" last week for a larger amount, and had it not been for this he would not have made complaint. The Pythians have been advancing money to members of the order, but it was learned that Ridley is not a member in good standing.

UNIVERSITY NEWS FOR JANUARY IS OFF THE PRESS

The January edition of the University News, the official publication of that institution, is off the press and is a very attractive number. The leading article is by Dr. David Ross Boyd, president of the institution, and deals with his experiences and impressions while attending the second Pan-American scientific congress.

Other interesting articles are an account of the Roberts method of language training, written by Miss Margaret Hildfield, the announcement that the university debating team soon will meet teams from the universities of Redlands and southern California, announcement of the launching of a new literary society and usual petty editorials from the pen of Dean C. E. Hodgin.

One important announcement is that of the starting of work on the new science building, work on which will be commenced this spring. The present science building will be reconstructed to serve as a library building and the space used by the library in Administration hall converted into class rooms.

A poem by Edmond H. Arons, formerly a member of the Evening Herald's editorial staff, is reprinted from a eastern magazine.

Articles on the state geographic society, the coming intercollegiate track meet, to be held under university auspices, addresses at vespers services, the purchase of a house by Alpha Delta, the latest fraternity to be organized at the university, and other university affairs, with interesting personal editorials about students and faculty, and a proclamation by Dr. Boyd, urging closer application of students to educational aims, make up the paper.

Announcing My New Cigar THE VERDICT

Owing to the large demand in Albuquerque and vicinity for a large 10-cent cigar, a demand which up to this time has been supplied by shipments from eastern cigar manufacturers, I am going to place a cigar on this market called

The Verdict

This cigar will be 5 1/4 inches long and Perfecto shape. It is made of pure imported tobacco throughout, with Havana and Porto Rico filler and Havana wrapper. This blend gives the cigar a foreign taste quite different to the flavor and aroma to which Albuquerque smokers have been accustomed. It is a mild, delightful smoke.

My aim in putting out this new cigar at this time is to supply an article which will find favor and thus make it practical for me to employ more cigar makers. Thus, not from a purely selfish standpoint I expect this new cigar to do something to stimulate industry in this city and keep Albuquerque money at home.

You will be convinced of its merit
